

Francis Fong

Economist

www.td.com/economics

Within TD Economics, Francis Fong is the economist in charge of Canadian special studies. In his current role, he conducts economic analysis and writes reports on a wide range of economic and social issues including pension reform, labour market issues, immigration policy, and current economic trends. He also travels across Canada speaking to TD clients and business units on these issues and is frequently quoted by the media. Francis holds a master's degree in economics from Queen's University and a bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Western Ontario.

TD Economics